REPORT OF LOCAL SUPERINTENDENT OF MOTH WORK

Report of Local Superintendent for the Suppression of Gypsy and Brown-tail Moths:—

At the beginning of the fiscal year of the town, which commenced March 1, 1907, we were clearing the trees of the brown-tail moth webs. This work was carried on with all the thoroughness that the funds at my disposal would permit; and the town passed the inspection of the state inspector satisfactorily.

With the cessation of work on the brown-tail moths, the Gypsy moth claimed our attention, and the colonies, which had been revealed by the scout of 1906, were attended to. Burlapping the trees was first in order and approximately 14,000 trees were burlaped. This consumed over one ton of burlap. When the larvae were hatched and in a delicate state, oil burners were used with good effect in burning out infested walls and stone heaps. As the season advanced, spraying with arsenious poison was resorted to with gratifying results.

I take this opportunity to urge all owners of fruit trees to provide themselves with spraying outfits, as a thorough spraying is not only a great protection against all leaf-eating insects, but a great benefit to the fruit; the improved condition being apparent in every case of spraying.

Burlap turning, which followed the spraying, resulted in the location of many strong colonies of which we had had no previous knowledge. This work was carried on in earnest until the larvae had all gone into the pupa state, which occurs about September 1. A short time was spent in trimming and cementing trees, which is a work of importance to all who have hollow trees that they are anxious to preserve. Then a systematic scout of the town was started with men who had had experience the year before. This scout required the constant efforts of four men from September 20 until December 1, and resulted in the location of egg clusters on two hundred and fifty-six (256) different estates within the town limits and representing four hundred and eighty-six (486) colonies to which it will be necessary to give treatment this coming summer. The record of the scout shows that four thousand five hundred and forty-five (4,545) egg clusters were treated with creosote. Besides these, thousands have been destroyed in old trees which have been cut and burned and in infected walls and stone heaps.

The mechanical methods used in the suppression of the Gypsy moths have been successful beyond my expectations, as colonies receiving early and thorough treatment did not, under a most critical inspection in the fall, show ten per cent of their former strength. Although the town is classed by the state officials as being generally infested, the situation is not regarded as serious, and if our territory receives proper attention this coming season the expense will be materially reduced in the future. Should the experiments in the propagation of parasites, which are being carried on by the combined efforts of the state and national governments at Saugus, prove successful, the task of suppression will be greatly lessened.

About December 1, the work of removing brown-tail webs from the trees was taken up again. A work of this nature in order to be successful needs the hearty co-operation of the people which, I regret to say, was not the case at the beginning of the year, but the experiences of last summer have changed public opinion and the work which has been going on since December 1, 1907, to the end of the business year, February 29, has been received with a degree of cordiality wholly unexpected a year ago. This fact, coupled with the promise of generous support by the State Superintendent, will enable us to put the town in a very desirable condition before the close of the present season.

Respectfully submitted.

GEORGE B. B. WRIGHT,
Local Supt. Moth Work.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT FOR SUPPRESSING
THE GYPSY AND BROWN-TAIL MOTHS

BOSTON, MASS., November 26, 1907.

E. T. ADAMS, Chairman,
Board of Selectmen,
Chelmsford Mass.

Dear Sir:—

Under the provisions of Chapter 381, Acts of 1905, with its several amendments, your town is authorized to expend in the work of suppressing gypsy and brown-tail moths during the fiscal year ending November 30, 1908, the sum of $3,819.36. Of this amount you are required to expend $1,319.36 before receiving reimbursement from the State. Above this amount the State will reimburse you 100 per cent, if the work is performed to the satisfaction of this office, and upon the presentation of proper vouchers and pay roll. This allotment is based upon the appropriation of $150,000, now available. Should the Legislature make an additional appropriation for this work, a further allotment will be made.

You will note that by act of the Legislature the fiscal year of all State departments now closes on November 30. Kindly make provision for continuing the work against the moths to the amount above mentioned, and notify this office of your action in the matter.

Yours very truly,

A. H. KIRKLAND,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF THE TREE WARDEN

In presenting this my annual report as Tree Warden, I am pleased to report a very noticeable increase in the interest manifested in trees over what was apparent when the tree warden law was passed.

Although an occasional necessity presents itself requiring the removal of a tree, there is an increasing demand for shade trees each year, which will eventually result in a very gratifying and improved appearance of the highways.

The duties of the Tree Warden would be much simplified if the street lines were clearly defined, a condition which would aid other town officials also.

My attention the past year has been turned to the preservation of old landmarks. The old elm on the common at the Centre, around which the children of the town have played for more than two hundred years, showed signs of old age, and was treated at considerable expense ; but I feel fully justified in my effort to prolong the life of so valuable an ornament. There are several other subjects in different parts of the town which should be considered at the earliest opportunity.

I regret to say that the elm leaf beetle put in appearance the past summer in such numbers that I felt justified in spraying the larvae with kerosene emulsion. A general outburst throughout the coming season is anticipated by State officials, in which case strenuous efforts for suppression will become necessary.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. B. B. WRIGHT,
Tree Warden.

REPORT OF THE CEMETERY COMMISSION

The Commissioners take pleasure in presenting their annual report of the condition of the Cemeteries of the town. It has been our endeavor to keep the Cemeteries in an attractive condition and, when finances will permit, to do some new work each year.

At Riverside Cemetery we have introduced a new water supply. It is connected with the system recently installed in the North village. Outside of this no new work has been done. We are pleased to note the improved condition in this cemetery, which has been brought about by the lot owners to a great extent. Keeping the graves of our loved ones green and fresh flowers upon the same is a mark of respect that we all should show. Mr. James S. Wotton has had charge the past year.

At the West Cemetery shrubs have been set out around the receiving tomb at the left of the entrance and have helped to beautify this section of the grounds. The people of the West village are justified in the pride they have in their cemetery because of its continued improved and artistic condition. Mr. A. F. Whidden has had charge, and the Commission feels that he is a valuable man for the position. Immediate steps must be taken to put the new part in condition for burial purposes, as there are but four lots left in the old section.

At Hart Pond Cemetery a row of eight maple trees have been set out and are in a thriving condition. The light nature of the soil there makes it difficult to do much with grass and shrubbery. Mr. Daniel P. Byam has had charge the past year.

The care of Forefathers and Pine Ridge Cemeteries have been in charge of J. Roland Parkhurst, and they have received the best of attention. The best results in work of any kind can be obtained from persons having natural taste and a liking for that particular kind of work. Such is the case with Mr. Parkhurst, he having made the study of plants and shrubs his life's work. This, coupled with the association of the old burying ground, has made his services the best.

In Forefathers Cemetery, the old part that was seeded down four years ago has been well cared for, and some of the walks put in better condition in the new part.

In Pine Ridge, there is certainly the opportunity for making a beautiful cemetery. We have kept the brush cut down on that part not used for burial purposes and walks and avenues free from weeds. We have had one new avenue surveyed, and it is our intention to put it in good condition the coming spring. This will make several new lots available, as well as opening up a way to the single graves.

Your Commissioners urge the co-operation of all lot owners in this work of caring for the cemeteries. It is the individual well-cared-for lots that help to make the more beautiful whole.

CHARLES F. SCRIBNER,
LOREN J. ELLINWOOD,
WILLIAM HALL (Clerk).

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

FREDERICK L. KENDALL

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

1907-08

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE TOWN OF CHELMSFORD:

We present herewith our report for the fiscal year ending February 29, 1908, together with that of our Superintendent of Schools, Mr. F. L. Kendall.

By careful examination of the report of your Superintendent, you will notice that in his opinion the present teaching force is doing good work. We too feel that the town of Chelmsford has a teaching force that, taken as a whole, will compare favorably with that of similar towns in the State. It will be our aim in the future as in the past to strengthen or eliminate whatever weakness or inefficiencies may develop; but it is easier many times to locate a defect than it is to administer a cure under the existing conditions. We believe that only by the payment of fair wages will it be possible for us, in filling vacancies, to secure those most competent to teach, and not only secure them, but hold them in the service of the town for a longer period than one year. Good teachers, like skilled employees in other branches of business, command a fair compensation for work performed and will go elsewhere if we refuse to meet the price offered by other towns. A poor teacher is expensive at any price. Let us then be as liberal as possible with our teachers and hold them responsible for results.

The school buildings, generally, are in good condition. At the South, the new building is nearing completion and the old house will soon be abandoned. At the North, the outer doors of the old building should be made to swing outward, and a porch should be built on the front. At the Centre, fire escapes should be provided in the rear of the new part.

Schoolhouse grounds should be improved from year to year, and after they are properly graded should be taken care of. Small sums of money are required during the coming year to continue the grading at the West school, and to make a beginning at the East and South schools. At the North school, the barns should be removed from the land recently purchased for school purposes, the lot graded, and the grounds around the old building put in better condition. Attention is again directed to the lack of playgrounds at the Centre School, and land should be acquired here with as little delay as possible.

The sanitary arrangements at the various buildings are fairly satisfactory, with the exception of those at the North village. A radical change is required here, and should be made at once.

With the completion of the new schoolhouse at the South, there will be ample school accommodation in all the villages, except at the North, where it has been necessary to fit up a room in the Town Hall to take care of the overflow, and it is probable that a new building must be provided not later than next year.

The amount of money received by your committee from all sources was not sufficient to pay for school expenses during the past year, and we are obliged to report a deficit, caused in part by the cost of fitting up an overflow room at the North and an additional teacher in the High School at the same village. For the coming year we recommend that sums of money be appropriated as follows:—

For Teaching.....	$15,200 00
Care	1,900 00
Fuel	1,950 00
Apparatus.....	100 00
Text books and supplies.....	1,200 00
Transportation	1,000 00
Furniture and repairs	1,200 00
Incidentals	250 00
Superintendent's salary	562 50
Medical inspection	300 00
	$22,662 50

Upon recommendation of our Superintendent, the following regulation is approved by your Committee:—

HIGH SCHOOL

After the graduations of June 1908, diplomas will be granted only to those completing in a satisfactory manner a four year's course, as laid out. The course, with rules governing the same, will be printed later.

REV. C. H. ELLIS

After having served as Chairman of this Committee since his election in March 1904, Rev. Charles H. Ellis resigned the first of last October, in order that he might devote himself more fully to the work of his chosen profession.

His deep interest in the Schools, his love of justice and fair play, and his careful judgment, enabled him to render valuable service to the Town, the compensation for which must rest largely in the consciousness of work well performed.

JOHN J. MONAHAN,
HERBERT E. ELLIS,
GEORGE F. WHITE,

School Committee.

TEACHERS

A comparison of the list of teachers printed in this report with the list given one year ago will reveal the fact that twelve new names appear in this year's report, and that nine which were on the list in nineteen hundred seven do not appear in the list for nineteen hundred eight.

This means that there have been nine resignations for various causes and that there are three more teachers than last year, namely : one grade teacher, one high School assistant in the North school, and a supervisor of drawing.

With the exception of one teacher who had taught for several years, all of the new teachers hold either college diplomas or certificates from some normal school. And, with but two exceptions, all had gained some experience in teaching aside from practice work before accepting a position in Chelmsford.

The unusual number of changes in the teaching force, together with the transfers, has brought it about that only sixteen of the twenty-nine regular teachers are doing the same work that they were doing a year ago. Even this statement needs to be modified somewhat on account of programs partially different, so that, approximately, one-half of the teachers are engaged in new work.

HIGH SCHOOLS

During the summer vacation, Miss Lena R. Edmands resigned her position as assistant in the North high school. Miss Georgiana M. Clark, a graduate of Tuft's College, with three years of experience as a teacher, was elected to fill the vacancy. And in order that the work of the school might be carried on more effectively, Miss Irena M. Crawford, also a graduate of Tuft's College, was elected as a second assistant.

The teaching force at the Centre high school remains the same that it was last year.

The class graduated from the Centre high school last June consisted of four young ladies, one of whom, Miss Helen M. Knowlton, is now a student in the Lowell Normal School.

One of the two graduates from the North school, Miss Amelia B. Marinel, also entered the same school in September, but has since decided that other lines of work are more attractive.

A portion of those who were graduated last June, as well as a number of those who have been graduated in previous years, received three year diplomas. In looking over the list of subjects taken by the recipients of these diplomas, it seems to me that their courses are not well rounded out. Valuable subjects have been omitted in nearly every case. Some, recognizing this, have returned to school the next year and completed the amount of work necessary to secure a four year diploma.

This brings us face to face with the question whether it would not be well to cease giving the short period diplomas, and give diplomas only to those who have completed four years of high school work.

All graduates would then be put upon the same footing, whereas, as it stands now, a three year graduate is just as much a graduate as one who has completed satisfactorily four years of work.

I would therefore recommend that after this year diplomas be given only to those who have completed in a creditable manner four years of high school work.

THE NORTH SCHOOLHOUSES

The room in the Town Hall formerly used as an armory is now being used for a schoolroom; and the upper hallway in the new building serves as a recitation room for some of the high school classes. This condition of affairs suggests that the present buildings are outgrown, and that more room should be provided immediately if the pupils are to have suitable accommodations.

This may be brought about by adding four rooms to the rear of the present building or by building a new schoolhouse in some other locality. Should the former plan be followed, the land available for a playground would be very small, even by including the lot recently purchased. By following the latter plan and putting up a building about half-way between the present buildings and the Lowell line to accommodate the smaller children who live in that part of the village; they would be separated from the larger children, a desirable feature; nearly every child could go home for dinner; and the transportation from that section would be done away with, almost, if not entirely.

Therefore it seems to me that the latter plan is the more desirable.

NORTH ROW SCHOOL

The enrollment in this school has not exceeded twelve at any time since the beginning of the fall term. At the present time it is only nine. This small enrollment forces us to reflect upon the wisdom of keeping this school open after the close of the present school year. My recommendation would be not to open it in September unless there should be a very decided increase in the number of children who would naturally go there for instruction.

EYE AND EAR TEST

The results of the eye and ear tests taken according to law are given in the table below. A few children who received treatment for poor eyesight because of the test last year, have normal or nearly normal vision now.

MEDICAL INSPECTION

Since the first of September, the school physicians, Dr. F. E. Varney and Dr. A. G. Scoboria, have visited the schools and examined the children to see if any were suffering from disease that would interfere with their school work. They have also been subject to the call of the teachers whenever there seemed to be need of a physician's advice regarding the health of the children.

The physicians report that they have not found in the schools any cases of diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, mumps, whooping cough, or chicken pox. They have found three cases of eye disease, forty-one of adenoids and enlarged tonsils, nine of scabies, nineteen of pediculi capitis, three of ringworm, six of impetigo, two of spinal curvature, one of chorea, one of feeble mind, seven of anaemia, and many children who had not been vaccinated. Of this number, those that were troubled with a communicable affliction were excluded from school until they could return with safety to the other children.

As the school physicians do not have authority to treat the children unless requested by the parents, and as in many cases the school physician is not the family physician, it is not possible to tell just how many children have received medical attention because of the diagnosis of the school physician. It is known, however, that one case of eye disease, three of anaemia, one of ringworm and six of impetigo have been treated. At least nine operations for adenoids have been performed, and a large portion of those who had not been vaccinated have attended to that.

Another duty of the school physicians is to examine the buildings to see if there are any unhealthy conditions. The physician for the North school reports that the sanitary arrangements for that school are poor, a statement that will not be questioned by those familiar with the facts.

SUPERVISOR OF DRAWING

The vote to engage a supervisor of drawing was one distinctly in the line of progress. As a result of this vote, Miss Bertha G. Bartlett, a graduate of the Centre high school, and also of the Boston Normal Art School, was engaged to fill the position.

Miss Bartlett has entered upon her work with intelligence and enthusiasm, and already the results of her instruction are clearly manifest. She has visited each of the grade schools once each week and has had entire charge of the drawing in the high schools. In response to my request, she has prepared an outline of the work, which is as follows:

In the first three grades the aim has been to develop the manual faculties by the use of lessons in paper cutting and coloring; after this, the imagination, by illustrating stories previously given the children by the grade teachers.

In the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, the aim has been to develop the observation by nature drawing, drawing from objects, lettering, design and color, and to follow with the development of the appreciation, which is carried out more specifically in the higher grades.

In the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, the plan has been to develop appreciation by color drawing from nature, and drawing from objects. Special stress has been laid in these grades upon form, color and design.

The high school work has been more theoretical. The course has included light and shade drawings from nature, theory of color, applied design, as in leather work, advanced lettering, mechanical and architectural drawing.

The interest manifested by the children in this work, which is new to the majority of them, has been very gratifying.

The earnest co-operation of the teachers and the assistance rendered by them has been heartily appreciated.

BERTHA GREENLEAF BARTLETT,
Supervisor of Drawing.

INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

There seems to be a strong and growing feeling throughout the United States that the schools, as at present administered, are too far away from the actual things of life, and that they do not train the children to a proper recognition of the dignity of labor, nor do they give the training which best fits the children to cope with the realities of life.

Although much is being done for the coming generation of men and women, yet the thought is insistent that more must be done, and that what is done must be done better, if we are to retain our eminent position among the nations of the earth.

The claim is made with good show of reason that the boy of fourteen is not prepared to enter the industrial world to advantage. If he does leave school at that age, and many do, but few opportunities are open to him whereby he may hope to rise to lucrative and desirable positions.

A remedy that has been suggested for this condition is the offering of industrial subjects in our schools to young people of that age. The bulk of the work would come in the high school, although the beginnings might appear in the grades.

The importance of this was recognized by President Roosevelt in his message to Congress at the beginning of the present session. An extract from that message reads as follows :

“Progress cannot permanently exist in the abandonment of physical labor, but in the development of physical labor, so that it shall represent more and more the work of the trained mind in the trained body. Our school system is gravely defective in so far that it puts a premium upon mere literary training and tends, therefore, to train the boy away from the farm and the workshop. Nothing is more needed than the best type of industrial school, the school for mechanical industries in the city, the school for practically teaching agriculture in the country. The calling of the skilled tiller of the soil, the calling of the skilled mechanic, should alike be recognized as professions just as emphatically as the calling of a lawyer, doctor, merchant or clerk. The schools should recognize this fact, and it should equally be recognized in popular opinion. The young man who has the farsightedness and courage to recognize it and to get over the idea that it makes a difference whether what he earns is called salary or wages and who refuses to enter the crowded field of the so called professions, and takes to constructive industries instead, is reasonably sure of an ample reward in earnings, in health, in opportunity to marry early and to establish a home with a fair amount of freedom from worry. It should be one of our prime objects to put both the farmer and the mechanic on a higher plane of efficiency and reward, so as to increase their effectiveness in the economic world, and therefore the dignity, the remuneration and the power of their positions in the social world."

Trial is being made of this idea in our own state at the high school in Petersham. As this school is located in an agricultural section, special attention is given to the needs of those who expect to gain their livelihood by tilling the soil. With that idea in mind, a course in agriculture has been worked out which proposes to teach the following subjects :

1. The wild flowers, birds, animals, and their habits.
2. The rocks, their chemical composition and the process by which the earth has been changed from a molten mass to a fit home for man.
3. The kinds of soil, their physical and chemical properties, the crops best suited to each, and the proper methods of cultivating, improving and fertilizing them.
4. How to raise the best hay crop, and the culture of each of the standard crops grown on a farm.
5. How to raise, care for, and market both the large and small fruits.
6. How to conduct a market garden business, both in the open and under glass.
7. The noxious representatives of the insect world, harmful fungi and the methods of destroying them.

8. The principles of forestry and landscape gardening.
9. How to care for domestic animals, poultry and bees.
10. How to manage the dairy and the culinary departments.
11. How to use the saw, plane, chisel, and keep tools in good order.
12. The cost, description and practicability of the most modern machinery for each kind of farm work.

That the small high schools may be enabled financially to offer industrial courses, an attempt is being made to put a bill through the present legislature which will provide for state aid to those high schools which maintain "Courses in agriculture, mechanic arts, or domestic science, approved as to equipment, instruction and expenditure by the State Board of Education." According to the provisions of the original draft of the bill, towns like Chelmsford would receive aid to the amount of one-half the cost of maintaining such courses.

But whether this bill becomes a law or not, it is almost certain that the term education will soon include within its scope not only the historical three "R's," but a great many subjects hitherto untouched by the schools.

CONCLUSION

The helpful suggestions made by those interested in the welfare of the schools, and the hearty support of those who are doing the work have been sincerely appreciated.

FREDERICK L. KENDALL,

Superintendent of Schools.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Trustees of the Adams
Library

AND

Report of the North Chelmsford Library
Corporation

OF THE

TOWN OF CHELMSFORD

FOR THE

Year Ending February 29th, 1908

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE ADAMS LIBRARY

The Trustees of the Adams Library submit the following report:—

The Board was organized at the beginning of the year with Mr. J. Adams Bartlett, Chairman; Mr. Albert H. Davis, Secretary; and Rev. Wilson Waters, Treasurer; and the usual committees were chosen for the various departments of Library work. Appended to this report is the Treasurer's account for the year.

The Public Library, as an educational and refining influence, has taken its place in the community as an ally of the Church and School. Its function is to broaden the public mind; to entertain as well as to instruct; to provide, in the easiest and pleasantest way, food for intellectual development. It cannot take the place of church or school, but as a factor in the life of a country town a well-equipped and well-ordered library may be said to be almost their equal, at least as far as intellectual development goes; indeed it may have a larger place than either of them. In its unity and comprehensiveness, whatever may be the ideal of church and school, the library has an actual advantage; but its effect upon the community should be, and no doubt is, to emphasize the importance and increase the influence of the other two. The citizens of the town must necessarily entertain a growing appreciation of the placing of such a noble benefaction in their midst; and this they can do, and are doing, by their increasing interest in, and use of, its privileges, by liberally providing for its proper maintenance, and thus making it a centre and symbol of intellectual enlightenment. The Trustees have a real sense of the important trust committed to them, and therefore ask the towns people to further them in its effective administration,
